Christmas Party Well Attended

The ISU Student Chapter of the AVMA held its annual Christmas Party December 14, 1960 in the Great Hall, Memorial Union.

Waiting for Santa

Marvin Rydberg, Chairman, estimated that about 500 people attended the party, approximately 125 being children. A number of the faculty and their families were in attendance.

The program was started by holiday greetings to all from Dean I. A. Merchant.

Final Decorations

Wayne Bicknese acted capably as master of ceremonies. Highlighting the entertainment was the presentation of a skit, "Santa's Workshop", by wives of junior class members. Also entertaining were "The FarmHouse Four," "The Veterinary Variables", and Sherm Marcus with his guitar. Many of the children decorated trees at the back of the room while about 100 door prizes from various pharmaceutical houses and merchants were being distributed. Santa Claus, played by Lloyd Colony, then visited the children while the adults enjoyed coffee and donuts.

The group visited the National Veterinary College at Alfort, France; the College of Veterinary Medicine at the University of Zurich; Ludwig-Maximilian University at Munich; and the Royal Veterinary College, University of London.

The group had the opportunity to meet with outstanding figures in the field, including Professor C. Formstron of the Royal Veterinary College, and Dr. T. H. J. deMan of Amsterdam, The Netherlands. The group was hosted by various organizations during the trip, including the Prais Veterinary Association.

Winter Smoker Held in Great Hall

The ISU Student Chapter of the AVMA held the annual winter smoker in the Memorial Union on January 4, 1961.

Wayne Bicknese, master of ceremonies for the event stressed the traditional nature of the smoker. It was well attended by members of the Student AVMA and most of the faculty.

The junior class presented skits which depicted the more humorous side of the classroom experiences of the veterinary students. The Peter Gunn theme song as interpreted by members of the Modern Dance Club was well appreciated. Also enjoyed was the encore presented by one of our own "girls."

The election of officers of the Student AVMA for the coming term was conducted during the evening. The results were as follows: President-elect, Wayne Bicknese '62; Vice-President, Art Mally '61; Secretary, Sidney Davis '63; Critic, Dale Hein '61.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the smoker.
